RENEWED PETITION UNDER 37 C.F.R §1.47a

Mail Stop PETITION
Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Dear Sir:

On 23 March 2006, Applicant filed a Petition under 37 C.F.R. §1.47a, accompanied by a Petition for a Four Month Extension of Time and a Response to Notification of Missing Requirements. A Decision on that Petition dated 03 July 2006, stated that the necessary fee under 37 C.F.R. §1.17g and a Statement of the Last Known Address of the Missing Inventor had been satisfied. The Decision held that the factual proof of the missing joint inventor refusing execution of the application or that the missing joint inventor cannot be reached after diligent effort and providing an Oath or Declaration by each 37 C.F.R. §1.47a Applicant on his or her own behalf, were not satisfied. A revised Petition accompanies this letter and is believed to remedy the shortcomings identified in the 03 July 2006 Decision on Petition.

Respectfully submitted,

FAY, SHARPE, FAGAN,

Mail Stop PETITION
Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Dear Sir:

In accordance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.47, the following Petition is made to file the application without the signature of one of the inventors, i.e. Chen-Lun Hsing Chen. Accompanying this Petition is a Declaration and Power of Attorney document signed by each of the present inventors with the exception of Mr. Chen.

The inventor, Chen-Lun Hsing Chen cannot be reached or he has effectively refused to cooperate after diligent efforts to contact him. Mr. Chen's last known address is 6F., No.101-22, Sec. 4, Chongsin Rd., Sanchong City, Taipei County

241, Taiwan.

A statement of facts regarding attempts to contact Mr. Chen is included with this Petition. The necessary fee was paid in an earlier submission of the Petition.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. The following statement of facts is to establish proof that diligent efforts were made to contact Chen-Lun Hsing Chen to execute the Declaration for this application.
2. On November 19, 2005, Chen-Lun Hsing Chen was contacted by email for execution of the requisite declaration (copy of this email no longer archived).
3. On January 27, 2006, Mr. Chen was again contacted via email (copy enclosed; Exhibit A)
4. Enclosed are email communications for execution of the requisite declaration, sent by members of the Fay Sharpe law firm to Mr. Chen over the past eighteen months, including March 25, 2005 (from Joseph E. Waters; Exhibit B); June 26, 2006 (from Marina V. Zalevsky; Exhibit C); August 4, 2006 (from Scott A. McCollister; Exhibit D); August 10, 2006 (from Scott A. McCollister; Exhibit E); and August 21, 2006 (from Robert M. Sieg; Exhibit F). These emails are not directed to the subject application, but are evidence of a continued effort to contact Mr. Chen concerning matters of interest to the assignee of the subject application. Mr. Chen has not responded to any of the identified emails.
5. At least one colleague of Mr. Chen has confirmed michael.hsing@prolightopto.com to be a correct email address. Enclosed as Exhibit G is a copy of a responsive email from Mr. Chen evidencing that the email address michael.hsing@prolightopto.com, used in each of Exhibits A and C-F is appropriate.
6. Mr. Chen had previously requested this office communicate by email because of the inefficiency of Taiwanese mail service.
7. In summary, the undersigned has repeatedly attempted to contact Mr. Chen regarding the subject application in a manner previously successful, but without reply from Mr. Chen in this instance.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

Michael, I hope you are well and not too bothered by our repeated imposition on you for signature of papers. I believe this may be the last or second to last time we bother you. However, I do need you to sign the attached Assignment and Declaration documents. Each is for a GELcore US patent application that originates from International Application No. PCT/US2003/027363. You can return the signed documents to me by fax or email. Please note that we need you to write your address into the signature block on the Declaration. Please contact me with any questions. Thanks Scott

Michael,

We are planning on filing a Chinese national patent application for an invention you worked on while at Gelcore. Our Chinese associate has asked that we provide them your Chinese name for this application, if one exists. Therefore, please forward me your Chinese name, if available. Forgive me for my ignorance, but is your Chinese name in Chinese Characters or in English letters? If in Chinese Characters, please forward me a pdf or some other readable format. You might even fax it to me if you wish. Thanks for your help in this matter.

Michael,

I hope all is well. I understand from Cherian that you recently made a trip to GELcore and that your life has been changing in a wonderful way. Congratulations.

I am writing to impose on you again. Attached are four documents that require your signature. Two are Declarations for US applications and two are assignments for the same applications. We can use electronic versions so all that is necessary is for you to sign, scan and return by email. I know you have expended some time and money on these matters in the past so my firm will send you a check or make a wire transfer for $250 as compensation. Let me know which you would prefer and an account # if you choose wire transfer.

Finally, attached is an assignment you executed earlier for a filing in China. The Chinese attorney's have asked that the document be notarized. We can perform that task in my office. All that I need is for you to confirm that you signed that document. I need to return that document to China by August 15, so I would greatly appreciate you confirming your signature as soon as possible.

Michael, I know we are inconvenient, but want to express my great appreciation for your cooperation. Please email with any questions or comments and with a account # if you make that election.

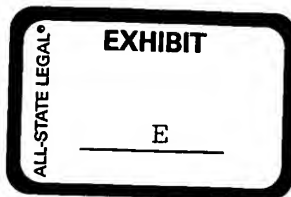

Thanks again. Scott

Michael,

Just hoping that you have received the prior email. I am sorry to bother you, but I am getting nervous about the August 15 due date in China. All we need on that one is your return email confirming your signature. If you do not feel the offered compensation for your expenses on these items is fair, please indicate what you would find acceptable for the requests we have made concerning your execution of documents in support of patent filings. Thanks Scott

+Docket Requirements for Hong Kong cases

There are two distinct types of Hong Kong cases; New law and Old law. New law cases are filed after 27JE1997 while old law cases are filed before. All Old law cases are automatically deemed granted and are now due for payment.

Old Law cases will have the following Case type/Filing type/Grant information

- ◆ Under the old law, the only type of patent obtainable was a confirmation of a GBRI or EPC(GBRI). Therefore, all cases should be docketed as a case type C , or a case type C and filing type E as that truly represents the type of case it is. However, our rules accommodate for those individuals who choose to docket their case with only a case type C or as a national filing.
- ◆ Application date is probably the same date as the parent filing date
- ◆ Does not have to have a grant date because all Old law cases are automatically deemed granted as of 27JE1997; the date of the New law.
- ◆ Will not have a publication date

Application Number Schema for Old Law Hong Kong cases

- ◆ Under the Old law, only patent numbers were assigned. The patent numbers could look like either of the following: 1302 OF 97 OR 2059/1996
- ◆ The application number will either be the corresponding GBRI or EPC (GBRI) patent number or application number.

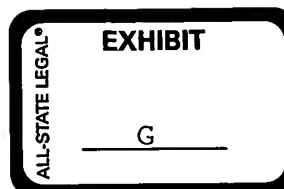

Under the New law, two types of patents are obtainable: "Standard" national patents and Confirmations. "Standard" patents are docketed with a case type S, only have a lifetime of 8 years and are not very prevalent. The most popular type of patent is still the Confirmation. Now that Hong Kong is under China's rule, a confirmation of a Chinese case is now also possible.

New Law cases will have the following Case type/Filing type/Grant information New Hong Kong cases

- ◆ Should be docketed as a case type C for Chin and GBRI confirmations; can also be docketed as a case type C and filing type E for EPC(GBRI) confirmations, as that truly represents the type of case it is. However, our rules accommodate for those individuals who choose to docket their case as a national filing.
- ◆ Parent filing date must represent the actual filing date of the parent (GBRI, EPC(GBRI) or CHIN case)
- ◆ Application date must represent the actual filing date in Hong Kong.
- ◆ If granted, grant date must represent actual Hong Kong grant date NOT the parent grant.
- ◆ If published, the publication date must represent the actual Hong Kong publication for inspection date NOT the parent publication date. Note, the publication for inspection occurs shortly after the filing date.

Application Number Schema for New Hong Kong cases

- ◆ The application number for Hong Kong is similar to that of EP applications. It contains 8 digits, a point and then a check digit. The first two digits represent the year it was filed in Hong Kong.
- ◆ If filed in 2000, the application number must have two zeros in front of the number. Leaving off the two zero's in the beginning causes difficulty when paying the annuity.
Example: should look like 00238578.9

Either way is OK for me. Just let me know what do you want me to do.

Hi Michael,
We hadn't talked for a long time and now we are talking all the time. Of course, I'm bothering you only because you are so creative and came up with a bunch of great inventions. :)

Turning to business, we are in the process of the patent prosecution of one of your patent applications in China. It looks like there is a requirement regarding your and your co-inventor's (Shawn Du) Chinese names. The requirement is that you verify your Chinese name by your signature before the notary public. The paper is attached.

I'm very sorry for this inconvenience, as I realize that this all might be more difficult to do in Taiwan than in US. I'd like to suggest few options to cause you less trouble:

1. We can mail you the prepaid return envelope so that you don't have to go to the Post Office and pay the fee.
2. We have a Taiwanese associate who can notarize your signature free of charge. It's possible that the Taiwanese associate can visit you at your convenience.
3. We can reimburse all of your expenses.
4. Although we prefer that you notarize the paper in Taiwan, we can notarize the paper here if you give us your authorization via the telephone or e-mail.

Please you let me know what the most convenient way for you to handle this matter is. The deadline for response is August 11. The Chinese associate asked us to have declarations signed
